

G. MAXWELL AND R. M. ANDERSON, Jr., Eds., Induction, Probability and Confirmation, University of Minnesota Press, 1975, 551 pp. Some of the papers are of broad interest, and interested—or even uninterested—mathematicians ought to have some acquaintance with this kind of thinking. Other papers, instead, seem to be the echo of cryptic discussions among sects.

GIAN-CARLO ROTA
Editor